

the field at night, unvalled, unbordered, still, still not enough, now, not enough, far enough and not, further outside, it rests, unvalled, outside, what is not a field is a room, the bed, folded, still, not enough to pass from room to field, from field to ditch, not enough, dislodged, elsewhere the stool too, wooden, and dislodged, unbound and other, folded, elsewhere in the room, here, no, field instead, fields expand, to fall instead, a passage and other, afield, to fall, borders clearly folded, other,
folded, clearly,
passage to prefer never instead, afield instead, with each breath, is how it goes, through thick gloom, a hurried to regret, never shape, clandestine to have to regret, but to wander too, to hurry still, to wander clandestinely, instead, to wander to hobble, without regret, not to walk further fall, to hobble, but to wander still, and fall, stumbling instead, to wander now, across fields to stumble, still, not enough, enough not to walk, to wander falling further now, into afield, to ditch, with crutches mud, to fall, to rest, in the mud, to rest, to be others or without, with bicycle, too, there, with ragged with stones, six stones in one pocket, in impeccable contours, succession, undefined, without a body, pocketed, proper, to mouth, this succession, and to say so, in the room to say so, the body there, to say nothing by mouth to other or admit defeat, or to stray, to stray instead, in silence pocket, to stray, in numbness, unbound, to other pocket, if leg is stiff, an intolerable from pockets weakness, unbound, by mouth unbound, from numbers legs stiffness, unbound, new pocket still to stray, in stiffness then, from old to new, from trousers to stray, yet to stray, still, in weakness, to jacket, to stray, too weak but still to stray, to turn to field instead, in place of room, astray instead, in stillness, left to right, then to turn, the stone, unsucked now, until exhausted, instead, poor legs to stray, to stray with pocketed the sequence, stone, in stones sequence, to the bones, exhausted, matter to dry bones, through earth looped, through noise and matter unbound, clearly looped, through dirt and filth looped, then stretched, from body to ditch stretched, and folded unbound, sequence then, in mud folded, unbound, alone to collide and back again, a migrating around itself it folds, and bends, in mud bent, the sequence, limit, bent, to bend, here, in ditch, forehead bound to earth instead, to dirt, to filth instead, to filth bound, to fields mud bound, the limit, to knees, in mud, to tremble is how it goes, in the bed, in the room, confined by walls, heavy but slightly, head, bent, chest, neck stretched, flesh poorly a tremble, enough, no, afield instead, a scurrying then to turn, from ditches shape, hurried, wall to elsewhere, Clandestinely, to dig, in the ditch, belly afield instead, into flat, to dig, in the mud, to dig, hands in mud, then to dig, continue field, to fall, into then, ditch in ditch, no, hole in mud, hole to drain, the mud, to pool, the hole, its surface ditch, fallen, to mirror in the ditch, a presence the skies then to rise, from ditch to rise, maldjusted, there, in the ditch, but vague, a presence, to rise, then to slip, silently, dim, from room to field at night, across field and into ditch, into pace slip with breath, then back into ditch, into ditch, to slip, in mud, to slip, into mud, figure ditch, into to fall, into hole, into ditch, into pool, blank, still, the pool, to slip then to fall, fragile, mud, on belly to fall, remembering flat, a figure the light, the bones rather, the fluids, the wound, drained, the wound, then the salt, the pressure, impooverished, in the breath, is the salt, the pressure from field to ditch, impooverished too, its rhythm shape to rest, to sleep, in open, a measure, ditch, to rest there, from field to ditch, to rest, near the clearing, towards the open to rest, then to turn, near the clearing, encounter, to turn, in the morning, towards a joy, impooverished, to turn towards the turn, to turn, towards the end, to turn then turn yet again, to the end and further to tend towards the turning, to tend towards joy, to turn to joy, at each breath, to be turning, hole, into to turn, breath paced now, in silence, depth, turned into still, to rise again or not, to hobble loss, looped and gone, to remain, instead, with footing onwards, then fall, rise, to listen, less, with sight less, with shrouded listen eye, in felt, the eye, in lard and fat, the shrouded then, to fall, rise again, to hobble eye, it matters not, not sight nor vision, into on, to fall, to listen, mouth it goes, is how it goes, on lost ground now, with leg too stiff to dig into fall again, to fall, then to listen, mud, voice to loop instead, in speech, to loop, the voice instead, locked into distortion lying down, to listen, again, over, less and into enough now, is not enough, and again, to fall again, still not enough, the ditch, flat there, on belly it again, less again, then looped, the loss, feel the matter flat, in ditch, flat, never to give up, not to stop, even for an instant, pressing, to proceed slowly gone, in pool to dissolve, the loop, to dissolve, to enter, the forgetting, instead, stones to pass, pocket then gone, to understand, it shifts, dimly, to mouth, another as echo, dim, now the echo, looped, but dim, the echo, still, then silent, yet again, another enough to speak or not to speak, never to mouth, then out, two in mouth, in pocket, to cease, is never then mouth, is how it goes, stones to circulate, enough, to remain, in the hole, in the ditch, to remain, never from matter to matter, to trim reason to return, fingers to nought, from matter impression, one finger to nought, from silence extended, another in clay plunged, stray fingers, suddenly, elsewhere, not nought, mud to water, slow then still, into stillness not enough, to begin then pause, is not enough, the same stones, looped, the stones, still, where silence instead, not an absence, resounds, empty, enough now, enough said, is not enough said, never to know nothing, enough, not enough to breathe, not enough, to pace breath with stones, then to rise, to pace footfalls say nothing, with breath, counting capable the steps as they fall, then to fall again, and on it goes, into of saying nothing, knowing,

mouth, to suck, then not, to shift, there, in the hole, in the ditch, from hole into nothing, mouth, stone turns to stray, less conform, without principle, to try and try again, nothing said to be known, is nothing said, in noise, into distortion now to limp instead, in the light to limp, to turn outwards bent, to merge always, to limp, towards stillness, impure, never in still speech, nothing, to emerge, it becomes, always, still, then to try, a depth too, a sinking broken, depth, in ditch the depth, eyes wrung, in depth, close, and closing in breach, is how it goes, to know emptiness still, with the twist and the slip, closing, instead, to fall instead, things scattered slow enough, slowness to gather, still, is how it goes, to turn not to room, not to return, to turn to stray, instead, to stray otherbodied, in ditch, to gather, a thing among others, otherbodied, now, waiting without origin, instead, in hole in ditch, waiting, in dead static, eyes in mud shut, remains of static embodied, then, sharp, bent, as fingers collapsed then, with the slip collapsed, twisted, bent, a voiceless bent and on belly stretched, in ditch stretched, to bend instead, a loss instead, cut doubly, flat into then looped, is how it goes, exhausted, ditch stretched, too deep a ditch, too short a leg, crutches across fractured too long, a pull rather, field, exhausted, to dribble until turned, to loop, yet again to loop, for another then, it remains, to dribble, turn, then dust remains, static fluids between stones, in mouth, to dribble and dust, the clearing, then suck, stones to shift, then loop, movements in dust, lifeless looped, in thought, in circles enough, enough to bury body in mud, yet to speak still, to know nothing of nothing, they emerge, not to be grabbed, not to be held, in circles passing, yet to speak, still, to speak, exhausted, ungrabbed, on waters surface, to speak, speech looped, mirrored ungrabbed, passing and looped, folded then gone, deep into and looped, and into mouth it goes, into mouth it bends, dissolves in breath, exhausted ditch, and gone, into breath, then gone, yet again, into static hole again, and gone, across field and into ditch, into
